Not only for yourself, but also for your boys from two and a half years old and upward can you purchase a Sunday, every day or school suit from J. Winter & Co., corner of Third and Market Streets, Louisville, Ky. Their prices are very low, and their assortment the best in the city. We know this to be a fact.

AN ANTIMONY FACT.—A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The results of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of Druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower.

Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold at all Druggists on the Western Continent. Bolton & Stagg, Stanford, Ky.

A LITERARY TREASURY.—Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine.—This valuable monthly has become a general favorite throughout the country. No such publication graced our homes before the great publisher became inspired with the happy thought which led him to the enterprise. A little over a year ago. Under the able management of its distinguished editor, Dr. C. F. Deems, like wine it improves with age, and there is no doubt whatever but that Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine will continue to increase in public esteem and patronage until it reaches a circulation unprecedented in the annals of periodical literature.

The May number of this precious work is now ready. It contains a large variety of articles, home and foreign matters, masterly editorials on timely subjects, stories, poems, paragraphs, music, sermons, wit, and cleverly calculated to interest, instruct and elevate the million of all ages, classes, sects and beliefs. Its 128 quarto pages teem with matter both religious and secular, original and selected, non-sectarian and extremely pleasing, illustrated with 100 beautiful engravings. The best living writers and artists contribute to this magazine. It will be well to send 25 cents to the publisher for a specimen copy. Annual Subscription $3; Single Numbers, 25c. Post-paid. Address your orders to Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

PERSONAL.

MISS KATE WEAVER, of Illinois, is visiting in town.

MR. J. M. WEAVER, of Birmingham, Ill., arrived last evening.

MRS. COL. W. G. WILSON has gone on a visit to relatives in Louisville.

MISS SUE DAVIS, after a protracted visit to Campbellsville, is again in town.

JOHN J. B. DENNIS, a pretty little daughter, is again in town.

MR. W. B. MARSH, the handsome Deputy Clerk of Garrard, spent a day in our town recently.

MISS LUCY GRAY, of Perryville, and Mrs. Tucker, of our city, are guests of Mrs. Geo. H. Bruce.

MRS. D. B. EDMISTON returned from a visit to her father's, Dr. J. B. Friebe, at Kinkaidville, yesterday.

OUR sweet little friend, Mary Aborn, presented us with the first bouquet of the season. Bless her little heart.

MRS. JON. McALLISTER came over from Georgetown, to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Vina Hays.

MISS REBA CRAIG, of Sayre Institute, Lexington, came over to attend the funeral services of her step-mother, Mrs. Will Craig.

WE are glad to see J. B. Lawrence, Esq., the popular State Agent, again at his post, after a necessary stop of sickness. He looks so natural as life.

PROF. JAS. B. WALTON, of Centre College, and his brother, Frank, of Virginia, who has lately visited in this city, were in town on a short time here.

MRS. SAM'L M. BERRY, our greatly-prized Mt. Vernon reporter, accompanied by Concessioner's Attorney J. H. Timley, of the 18th District, was in town this week.

MISS KATE SUMMERS, of Harrodsburg, an attractive and interesting young lady, was a passenger on the train Monday evening, en route to Lancaster to visit her sister, Mrs. W. McKeen Duncan.

MRS. F. J. ANTHONY has returned from Cincinnati, and is opening a beautiful stock of Spring Millinery. The bright face of Miss Lillie Harrison looks all the brighter in the miniature garden of artificial flowers.

MR. AND MRS. T. DAVIES have gone to Cincinnati, where the latter will stay in her sister's stock of Millinery. The reputation Mrs. Davies has for taste in selection is well-known, and we are confident that her "opening" will be a grand affair.

REPRESENTATIVE JOHN S. OWENLY, returned yesterday to the seat of his constituents. Mr. Owenly has attempted no display of himself while in Frankfort, but when work was to be done he was always found at his post and his vote was in nearly every instance cast in the right direction.

THE DOCTORS.—The Central Kentucky Medical Association will meet next Wednesday, 17th inst., in Lancaster, at 10 o'clock, A. M. Dr. Meyer, of Boyle, will open the debate on the treatment of wounds. The Anatomy demonstration on Femoral Hernia will be made by Dr. A. D. Price, of Harrodsburg. Delegates to the next meeting of the American Medical Association will be selected at this meeting.

ALMOST A FIRE.—The house of Peter Strub, which is situated in our suburb Dooleyville, was discovered on fire Sunday night in time to extinguish the flames before they had done much damage.

CORRECTION.—The freight trains go to Louisville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and return on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, just the reverse of our statement last week. There is no regular stock train on this branch.

C. O. & DANVILLE TURNPIKE.—The Stockholders in this Turnpike elected their officers for the ensuing year as follows: J. S. Boyle, President and Superintendent; Judge J. A. Lytle, Treasurer; S. S. McRoberts, Secretary. The Directors chosen are Jacob Guest, G. A. Lackey, James W. Guest, Dr. J. B. Orsley and J. W. McAllister.

SUCIDE.—Mr. George Delaney, Sr., an old citizen of this county, committed suicide on his farm near Crab Orchard, on Tuesday last, by hanging himself with a trace chain, while laboring under a mental aberration. This was his second attempt to take his own life, the first being discovered in time to prevent death. He leaves a wife and a number of children.

OS Monday next the Spring Term of the Lincoln Circuit Court will convene, and there will be many people in town during the session, drawn hither to hear the important murder trials, we advise them to purchase their Spring supplies of goods at the large house of Hayden Bros. Dry goods, clothing, notions, boots and shoes, etc., are offered by this house at panic prices. Their stock is varied, and was selected in the Eastern cities by the tany Senior partner.

WHEN we recognize the fact that individual tastes differ so widely, we wonder at the power of any merchant in selecting his goods for a certain market, to suit the varied tastes of his many customers. Nevertheless, some men can do it. This is particularly observable at the store of Hayden Bros. Every body who goes there is at once pleased and suited; hence they never leave without a supply of excellent goods bought at prices which barely afford a little profit to the firm.

HORSE THEFT.—Last Sunday night a horse belonging to Mr. J. W. Simpson, of Gilbert's Creek, was stolen. After considerable search the animal was found in possession of a gentleman in Madison county, who stated that a negro named Wm. Elmore, had left it with him. Elmore was accordingly arrested and delivered here on Tuesday last by the Deputy Marshal of Lancaster, Mr. Hurdle Singleton. An examining trial was had before Judge Lytle, and it being proved that the negro had confessed that he took the horse, he was sent on to jail fixed at $200. Not giving it he went to jail.

MORTGAGES.—From January 1st to this time the Clerk of this county has recorded 73 mortgages and 7 Deeds of Trusts or assignments, being more than double the number recorded during the same time of 1877. This large increase is due to the stringency of the times and to the inability of a great many of the parties to give personal security, as men who have the means are profiting by the experiences of numbers of others and decline to sign their names to notes as security for money, which in all probability they might have to make good. In addition to the mortgages, there have been 98 deeds of conveyance also recorded in the time named above.

ELECTION LAST SATURDAY.—The election of Town Trustees, as usual, passed off without any apparent interest. It is a sort of a thank you office, and of course is not sought after, and the question of politics is never raised. The following ticket was elected: R. H. Weaver, John M. Phillips, J. O. Evans, A. G. Pundleton, J. N. Davis, M. G. Nevins and John J. McRoberts. The main interest of the day centered in the question "whether hogs should run at large on the streets or not." The fight was animated, and the result just the opposite of what it should have been. The filthy, pestiferous swine was allowed to roam the streets, root up yards, and destroy gardens at their own sweet will. That such a nuisance should be allowed, is a disgrace to any town. A man who is not able to be a slave to keep his hogs, ought not to be suffered to impose the half starved creatures on his neighbors, and if the property holders can get no other protection, they should have appealed to the Legislature as Frankford did, and have had the evil remedied.

A FEW TIMELY WORDS.—For years this county has been ridden by bands of lawless men who have held an almost undisputed sway of terror. Cold blooded murders, assassinations, burglaries, highway robberies, and every conceivable crime have been committed. Life, limb and property were in constant danger, and those who had suffered were warned under pain of instant death, not to lay their grievances before the Grand Jurors. This state of affairs grew out of the fact that officers were afraid to do their duty because the cowardly Jurors and the more cowardly public failed to give them sufficient support to put an end to the reign of terror. But the straw that broke the camel's back was destined to come some day, and so bold had the rascals become that the people arose in their power last December and decided to end these murders and robberies by shutting the perpetrators in jail. Since then Lincoln county has enjoyed a season of comparative rest from these terrors, and it only now remains for the Jurors of the approaching Court to finish the work so nobly begun. The Grand Jury has a powerful duty to perform and it behooves them, man to man, to stand up and do their whole duty, investigate thoroughly all the cases that have come to light, and use their utmost endeavors to bring to light the scores of others that we hear of but as yet, are not sufficient material to make public. Recent developments show that our officers and others, who have assisted in the good work of bringing criminals to justice, are in imminent danger of their lives being taken by lawless parties. Protect these officers and citizens, and above all, throw the protecting arm of the law around the witnesses that are to testify in the cases to be tried. Every day we hear of intimidation and threats of violence toward them, and some have been compelled to leave the county to save their lives. This must be ended, justice must be done, and Lincoln must be restored to her former honorable position. Therefore, we urge upon our Jurors the importance of standing squarely to their oaths and doing their whole duty. We do not wish to see a single innocent man suffer, but we do want to see murderers and thieves get the full extent of the law.

LAMBS KILLED.—About twenty more lambs belonging to Dr. T. B. Montgomery, were killed by dogs this week, and the Doctor has sworn eternal vengeance on the whole canine race.

LOPED IN JAIL.—Logan Montgomery, who is charged with shooting at, with intent to kill Mr. Roe and Sam Owens, was arrested by the Sheriff of Casey county, on a writ sent from this county, and lodged in jail here Tuesday.

MANTUA-MARKING.—We call attention to the advertisement of the Misses Mitchell and Miss Hale, which appears in another column. They are prepared to do all kinds of Sewing, and as they are worthy and deserving young ladies, we bespeak for them a liberal share of patronage. They can be found two doors below the Presbyterian church.

NOTHING could be prettier than the magnificent display of Spring Millinery now being opened at John H. Craig's Trade Palace. It embraces every variety and shade, and the ladies are perfectly charmed. That accomplished lady, Miss Annie L. Fisher, has charge of that department, as well as the Dress-Making, which is a sufficient guarantee that every thing will be done in the best and most fashionable style. Call and see her.

FOREWARNED.—We understand that Judge Lytle has written to Governor McCleary warning him of the state of affairs that may exist during the approaching trials, and suggesting that the State Militia be sent here next week to preserve order. We have not heard what the Governor intends to do. If troops could be sent we are of the opinion that they could much more easily and better perform the duty than Dick, Tom and Harry picked up any where.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The docket of this Court, which will convene next Monday has 217 cases on it, of which there are 126 Commonwealth cases; 9 motions; 41 Equity (old); 21 Equity appearances; 16 old Common Law, and 61 Common Law appearances. The Commonwealth cases do not include those for which indictments are to be found this Court. The felony charges alone will run the number up at least 25. The first case on the docket is that of Samuel Holmes for the killing of Sheriff Napier.

RAILROAD MEANNESS.—Mr. S. S. Myers complains greatly of the trouble he had in obtaining any accommodation at the hands of the employees of the L. & N. R. R. at Depot in Louisville. He arrived there with the body of his brother at 10 o'clock at night, and the coffin was put out on the platform, and no untoward incident for it to be placed in the baggage room. He would probably have had to remain with it all night, had not Capt. R. S. Lokenbill come along, who ordered the Depot man to take charge of the body. Mr. Myers feels a debt of gratitude to that gentleman, who he desires us to express. The officers of the Railroad Company should see to this matter—if for no other reason than that others shall not be forced to suffer as did Mr. Myers.

MARRIAGES.

ESTES—FLOYD.—On the 4th, Mr. Willis G. Estes to Miss Martha Susan Floyd.

DELANEY—WYATT.—Wm. Delaney and Mrs. Rebecca Wyatt, were married on the 7th. They are aged respectively 58 and 33, and both have had matrimonial ventures before.

TURNBULL—POWERS.—Aunt T. Turnbull, a youth of 18, and Miss Pamela Jane Powers, a little Miss who has barely seen 15 Summers, were indismissibly united on the 5th inst.

PITMAN—JACKSON.—At Ephesus Baptist church, on the 7th, were married Mr. Granville Pitman to Miss Laura Jackson. The bride in this instance, we understand, is almost double the age of her liege lord, who is but 19.

BRONAUH—HAYS.—On Tuesday evening, April 9th, in the Baptist church at Crab Orchard, Mr. Reuben Bronaugh and Miss Vina Hays were united in the holy bonds of marriage.

"Hear the mellow wedding bells—golden bells! What a world of happiness their harmony brings! Through the balmy hour of night How they ring out their delight!"

No jarring discordant notes in the refrain to-night—two hearts have been united that have loved from childhood—the young man of promise, of integrity, takes to his handsomely furnished cottage home, a bride who possesses the graces that should adorn woman—modesty, affection, and truthfulness. Of the them it may be truly said—

"Happy together stand unite, and in one fate their hearts and futures blend."

The Baptist church was decorated with taste and elegance by Mrs. Tarrant and Mrs. Mayes, assisted by some of the young ladies of Tarrant College, Mr. Elmhurst and the young men, not forgetting Stuart Carson and Charley Hardin, who rendered efficient service. The design was unique and beautiful. Three arches immediately in front of the pulpit were festooned with cedar and entwined with flowers. From the centre arch, which was taller than the other two, was suspended the marriage bell, made entirely of white flowers. The pulpit was handsomely decorated and brilliantly lighted. The letters B. H. were united in a monogram and trimmed with green. The effect of the whole was beautiful. Dr. J. H. Lake and Mr. H. B. Farris acted as ushers. Mr. S. Harris and Miss Mary Bronaugh, Mr. Turner, of Richmond, and Miss Ella Evans acted as attendants, the officiating clergyman, Rev. J. M. Bruce, of Stanford.

The ceremony was beautiful, and very impressive. As the party entered the church, and also when retiring, Mrs. Mayes played the "Wedding March" on the organ. The church was crowded with spectators. A "reception" was given at the residence of Mr. Bronaugh, to which invited guests went immediately from the church, and the evening was enjoyed to the fullest extent by all. The grand-parents of the groom, Col. and Mrs. Mundy, were present. Dr. and Mrs. Bronaugh welcomed the bride of their only child with a warm, heart-felt God bless thee!

Mrs. Martha McAllister, from Georgetown, was present, also Mr. and Mrs. Eph. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Engleman, Miss Eliza Engleman, and Mr. and Mrs. Owsley Evans, from Stanford, Miss Maggie Higgins, Miss Bettie Harris, Miss Ida Fish, Jean Dickenson, Alice Stuart, the members of the Senior Class of Tarrant College—indeed, quite a large and very pleasant company. The bridal presents were very handsome. The supper was everything that an epicure might desire, the table handsomely arranged, and there was an abundance of good things.

Mr. Jas. McAllister gave the bridal party a dining Wednesday, then they will visit friends in Stanford, after which they will settle down to "love in a cottage, with happiness and contentment."

The happy couple will please accept the hearty congratulations of the INTERIOR JOURNAL. Miss Vina is a model young lady, and if they are not always happy we are sure it won't be her fault.—[Ed.]

DEATHS.

Mrs. Sophia B. Craig, wife of Will Craig, Esq., and daughter of Rev. W. H. Winters, of the Methodist church, South, died very unexpectedly last Monday morning at 2 o'clock, of paralysis of the heart, aged 22 years. She had been sick for about a month, but it was thought that the crisis had passed and that she was in a fair way to recover. Her husband had accordingly returned to his business in Cincinnati, thoroughly convinced of her convalescence. The shock that the telegram announcing her sudden death, gave him, can be imagined. Mrs. Craig professed Christianity when about 12 or 13 years of age, joined the Methodist church and her life since has been one of Christian love and kindness. Her funeral was preached on Tuesday evening by the Rev. J. C. Randolph, of Danville, and in the presence of her father, husband, little babe, and scores of relatives and friends, her body was consigned to its last resting place in Buffalo Cemetery. Truly the death of the young is sad and we sorrow with the husband and friends in their great affliction.

A telegram was received by the family on Sunday morning last, announcing the death of Mr. James Myers, at Pueblo, Colorado. Mr. S. S. Myers, brother of the deceased, started by first train to bring the body here for interment, and arrived with it on Wednesday evening. On Thursday morning the funeral services were held by Bishop Thos. U. Dudley, of the Episcopal church, at the College Chapel, and the remains escorted by the members of the Stanford Lodge of Masons, to the Cemetery. Here the Bishop went through with the usual services at the grave, which were followed by the Masonic ceremonies, and then all that was mortal of James Myers was consigned to the tomb. Mr. Myers was in his 36th year, and was a native of Virginia. After the close of the war, in which he served four years, with distinction in the gallant "Stonewall" Brigade, he sought the occupation of a printer. He obtained employment on the West & South, a paper published in Cincinnati, and subsequently worked on the Gazette. After several years spent in Cincinnati, during which he married Mrs. Helen Burnham, of Vermont, who was then visiting in Covington, he removed to St. Albans, Vermont, and became connected with a daily paper there and remained with credit up to the commencement of his sickness. Then with his wife and three little children he came for the benefit of his health to his sisters, Mrs. S. C. Trueheart, Principal of our Female College. Finding but little improvement, he went out to Colorado, but the terrible disease, Consumption, had fastened its hold so tightly that fine climate had no effect on him. Mr. Myers was a member of the Episcopal church, a Knight Templar, and a thorough gentleman in every sense of the word. His wife and little ones suffer a severe loss in his death, but "the Father of the fatherless and the God of consolation to the widow," has promised to sustain them in their affliction and to Him they can look for succor. The sympathy of the entire community is with them and the other members of the family in their sorrow.
